Welcome

ladies and gentlemen to the fifth edition of La Risa de Bilbao.

This year we've dispensed with featuring a single theme for the Festival in order to move more freely and be able to choose a programme that is more varied than ever. Under this premise of the absence of premise, I am happier with the outcome than Flaubert's parrot with his feeder flush with Jamaican hemp: our first-rate lineup of guests with the newly award-winning Julian Barnes and the attractive diversity of events.

What's more, Robert Crumb has done us the grand honour of gifting us with this original illustration for La Risa de Bilbao 2014. Seeing our JA! according to Crumb, presiding over this peculiar still life of challenging beauty and teensy-weensy feet has kicked up my joy level several points higher on the Sharpe Scale.

We're really excited to be seeing you again!

Health, good humour and persistence.

Juan Bas. Director

DIALOGUE

ANTONIO OREJUDO - IGNACIO ECHEVARRÍA Ease or weapon

- Book signing after the event

- While, for Ignacio Echevarría, humour is a “keynote” in Spanish literature, Orejudo does not understand how “a literary tradition that is so happy, so hooliganish, so sarcastic and so carnivalesque as the Spanish literary tradition is has become so sad and gloomy”. They both will defend, with a grand sense of humor, their opposing perspectives in the most suitable framework possible: a festival of literature (and art) with humour.

4th October • Sala BBK • 20:30h

DIALOGUE

JEAN ECHENOZ- EMMANUEL CARRÈRE

- Book signing after the event

- Jean Echenoz and Emmanuel Carrère are — besides great friends — two of the most relevant and international French writers of the moment. It will be a unique opportunity to see them together on stage. They’ll talk about literature and humour in this and other areas of life. French with simultaneous interpretation.

5th October • Alhóndiga Bilbao • 19:00h

DIALOGUE

HUMOUR AND ADVERTISING RICARDO PÉREZ. Presented by Félix Linares

- Advertising often uses humour to create campaigns and there are some adverts that are really incredibly witty. Ricardo Pérez is a long-time figure in Spanish advertising and the author behind such popular campaigns as ‘Calvo, claro’, ‘Voy a comer con Don Simon’, ‘El que sabe, Saba’ or ‘Ñaka ñaka La Cigala’, all characterised by their humorous nature. With the help of journalist Félix Linares, Ricardo Pérez will take a look at some of the funniest adverts in advertising history.

© Juan Boites

Book signing after the event

• Humour in their respective countries of origin – Mexico and Argentina – will be the pretext for these two major contemporary Latin American writers – Juan Villoro and Martín Caparrós – to converse on the divine and the human with a display of their famous gifts of wit and erudition. Without doubt, this is going to be one of the most enjoyable events at this year's festival. Don't miss out!

10th October • Sala BBK • 20:30h

INTERVIEW

LUIS GOYTISOLO
Interviewed by Ignacio Echevarría

Luis Goytisolo
Ignacio Echevarría

© Olaya Pazos

Book signing after the event

• Luis Goytisolo is one of the most prestigious writers of contemporary Spanish narrative. Author of such Spanish seminal books as 'Antagonía', 'Fábulas', 'Estatua con palomas' and 'Diario de 360º', his works "can be understood only by approaching them through humour". This is the opinion of Ignacio Echevarría – a major expert on his work – for whom "Luis Goytisolo's books are largely riotously funny, with an insane humour that, moreover, dominates them all".

11st October • Sala BBK • 19:30h

INTERVIEW

JULIAN BARNES

19:30h. Interviewed by NURIA BARRIOS

20:30h. BBK LA RISA DE BILBAO 2014 AWARD

Julian Barnes

Nuria Barrios

Book signing after the event

- The world's most demanding critics and the perpetual legions of fans that Julian Barnes has across the globe are unanimous in pointing out the intelligence and sense of humour in his literary work.

Following Tom Sharpe, Francisco Ibáñez, Ismaíl Kadaré and Robert Crumb, the 2014 BBK - La Risa de Bilbao Prize will be for the British writer Julian Barnes. Before picking up his BBK-La Risa de Bilbao Prize 2014 award, Julian Barnes will be interviewed by the writer Nuria Barrios.

Barnes once said that you can't run away from your own fingerprints. For his publisher in Spain – Jorge Herralde (Anagrama) – there is humor in every one of Julian Barnes' fingerprints.

12nd October • Alhóndiga Bilbao • 19:00h
